RED CROSS CLINIC GREAT SUCCESS

Ninety-three smiling Donors responded to the Blood Transfusion Service held in the Memorial Hall on the afternoon of October 28th. The Personnel from Calgary, being ten nurses and V. A. D.'s in charge of Miss Maugher, were delighted with all arrangements made for the Clinic. Mrs. Harley Willson solicited supplies for the luncheon for the Donors, while Mrs. Charles Bennett took command of the very able staff in the kitchen drawn from members of the Women's Auxiliary to the Legion. Mrs. Marcum was registrar and Mrs. Newmeyer and Mrs. Maggs dispensed limejuice. Mrs. Stickleby and Mrs. T. Wright attended the Recovery Room and Mrs. T. Hughes and Mrs. Patrick washed tubings and needles. The Personnel were taken to a very appetizing noon dinner at the King Edward Grill, and served with a light supper in the hall at 6 p.m., by Mrs. Warrack and Mrs. Lounsbury.

It is perhaps not clearly understood by the general public that

In 1913 they journeyed to Inisfaul, Alta. later moving to Carleton Place where they have lived several years, and have made many warm friends as testified to in this recent happy get-together. HALLOWE'EN

IN PRIMITIVE times when our Celtic ancestors were living in the dark forests of Western Europe, the year's end was calculated to be Oct. 31 and New Year's day Nov. 1. The druids, priesthood of that era, maintained that witches and disembodied spirits were abroad, under summons from Saman, lord of death, on the eve of the new year. So the evening of Oct. 31 was known as "All Witches Eve". Bonfires were lighted and there were all kinds of incantations to scare the witches away. There were all sorts of superstitions connected with the annual event.

With the advent of Christianity the heathen festival changed into a Christian one, so the "Night of All Witches" was changed into "Night of All Saints", or All Hallowes Eve. In these times the occasion is not so much observed as a religious event, but rather as a time for mischief-making on the part of the young people. This naturally rolls the older folks.

The collection of apples and nuts by the young probably originated from the intrusion into the observances of Hallowe'en by Roman practices. Pomona was the goddess of fruits and vegetables and her festival was celebrated on November 1. That was the occasion for offering of the fruitfulness of the land.

Recent Hallowe'ens have witnessed a diversion from older practices. "Shell Out Night" was organized in the past few years to divert mischiefiveness into altruistic channels, and the Lions Club sponsored this effort locally. This year they have substituted a party for the children, with the hope that it may provide the fun and excitement desired by the younger element. It is to be hoped that it will also help to eliminate many of the more objectionable features of the evening.

DON'T RUN OVER MY LITTLE GIRL

The following was written some weeks ago by R. A. Cantelon, of the Dept. of Economics Affairs in the Alberta Provincial Government. The Advance has held it over, and we are pleased to publish it now on this timely occasion of reopening of schools in all parts of the country. The letter could have been written by thousands of fathers in the same appeal;

"Dear driver—Today my daughter, who is seven years old, started off to school as usual. She wore a dark blue dress with white collar. She had on black shoes and wore gloves. Her cocker-spaniel, whose name is "Scot," sat on the front porch and whined his canine belief in the folly of education as she waved "goodby" and started off to the halls of learning.

Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her—the girl with the yellow curls—and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher who has eyes in the back of her head—and about the trees in the school yard—and Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things—tremendously unimportant things—then we studied spelling, reading and arithmetic and then to bed.

She's back there now—in the nursery—sound asleep, with "Princess Elizabeth" (that's a doll) cuddled in her right arm. You see, I'm her daddy. When her doll is broken, or her finger cut, or her head gets bumped, I can fix it—but when she starts across the street, then she's in your hands.

She's a nice kid. She can run like a deer and dart about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride horses and swim and bike with me on Sunday afternoons. But I can't be with her all the time—I have to work to pay for her clothes and her education. So—please drive slowly past the schools and intersections—and remember that children run from behind parked cars. Please don't run over my little girl."

—Langley Advance.

PRESS REPRESENTATIVES FOR CLUBS

ORGANIZATIONS and clubs in Strathmore and District wanting meetings reported in the Standard, could not do better than to appoint someone to write regularly a complete account of their business and activities, and turn it into this office before Wednesday. We haven't the staff to send a reporter to meetings for the news. We welcome all that comes in but if the news of club activities doesn't come in we can't publish it.

As to copy that is sent to us being cut or altered, we're sorry, we cannot help that. The editor has a prejudice against too many capitals, the proof reader has a prejudice against too many commas and adjectives, and the make-up man frequently makes the news-writer whittle down and tailor copy to fit the space he has.

We incline to favor copy written on one side of the paper only, and if it is hand written we will do our best not to misread it, and if it is typewritten we will rise up and call the writer blessed.

INDUSTRY

—Drumheller Mail—

THE MEETING of officials of various Industrial Boards held in this city today is fair warning to the rest of Canada that Alberta is going out in a whole-hearted effort to get her share of future manufacturing assignments.

The average Albertan is a determined fellow and today's delegation in conference proved just that fact and more. Earliest pioneers felt that Alberta could only serve as ranching country—later, as farming reached top prominence, they were proven wrong. Even when mining and the exploitation of oil swung to the fore the pioneers felt that we had reached an absolute zenith — still those oldsters are wrong.

This province within the next few years will show rapid industrial growth for, as one of the officials pointed out today, we have all the facilities and a share of the raw products, also available well-located space.

The task of bringing manufacturing and industrial concerns to this province is not an easy one. Climate, transportation, taxation, raw material and labor are among the more important items to be considered by manufacturers, while on the other hand the task of Provincial Industrial Boards is to sell these items on a fairly tough market.

There are several schools of thought regarding the best means of increasing the number of industries in Alberta, each with some advantages. Conferences, such as the one held here today, and the efforts of the various Industrial Boards formed a part of our attack — one that must be driven to a successful conclusion.

REPRINTED BY REQUEST

"The owner—publisher—editor—printer of one of Georgia's county newspapers was a great fisherman. He had a story in the Rotarian. As soon as the weekly paper was out on Thursday night it was his habit to make for his favorite spot.

"Came a weekend, however, when the moon, water and bait were just right and the fish was biting so fast and furious that he just couldn't tear himself away on Sunday or Monday or Tuesday or Wednesday—until finally on Thursday afternoon, he woke with a start to the enormity of his sin.

"Here it was press time and not a lick hit on the paper! Frantically, he threw his tackle into the car, speedily he drove back to town, his mind racing as fast as the motor.

"Then out of the bleak desperation flashed a brilliant idea. The format of last week's paper were still on the press. It took but a moment to set the line which he set above the nomenclature on the front page: "Reprinted by request."

Dropping the Pilot

The ouster of John L. Lewis along with 12 other vice-presidents of the American Federation of Labor is big news on the labor front. It's a case of dropping the pilot. Just what it portends is for the future to decide, but it may be that the American Federation of Labor has decided that the time has come when radical labor leadership must give way to a greater spirit of co-operation between workers, employers and the consuming public if chaos is not to come out of the inflationary wage-price spiral in the United States.

Registration with the Provincial office will supply the group with Farm Forum Guides and other information dealing with the topics under discussion.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

The other day I had an interesting conversation with a piano tuner who was working in my home.

Although I had always thought his profession a rather monotonous one, I was soon to change my mind. For he talked so engagingly about his work, the construction of the instrument and other related matters, that I found myself becoming genuinely interested.

But what fascinated me most was his great enthusiasm for his work.

This attitude towards one's job is greatly to be desired. Enthusiasm has a magic, warming effect on all of us. And in a worker—he be salesman or carpenter, butcher or book-keeper—it wins admiration and co-operation from employers, customers and all others with whom he comes in contact.

So, especially to younger men, I would say: Regardless of whatever headaches and disappointments your work may bring, keep on being enthusiastic!

Millions of owners and beneficiaries of life insurance policies enthusiastically endorse this form of investment for security. Agents of the life insurance companies in Canada, too, are enthusiastic about their work because it renders a valuable service.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Clark entertained their many friends on Thursday the occasion being Lealie's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wheatley attended the Shrine Football game in Calgary on Saturday afternoon.

come forward of their own free will, and as the Red Cross had a legal agreement with the hospitals of the province to supply them with a slated quantity of blood, the agreement can only be kept with the co-operation of fellow citizens. It is a happy person who can say "Yes, I'm a donor," for he knows he is aiding the recovery of some less fortunate individual now lying ill in hospital.

Particular thanks is due to the Strathmore Branch of the Canadian Legion whose generous donation of the Memorial Hall for the day enabled the Clinic to be such an outstanding success.

HOME AND SCHOOL

These young students expressed their thanks for the prize and gave much credit for their success to their teachers.

Concentration is very necessary and to this end, no blaring contrabass should be allowed.

Home work was considered as part of a total programme in the students school life.

Minutes read by Mrs. Hilsdon gave notice that Hon. Mr. Ansley, Minister of Education will visit our group and give an address sometime following the Session of Legislature next spring.

The Treasurer's Report, given by Mrs. Polley showed a Bank balance of $139.59.

Mrs. Bremner's Class gave an interesting demonstration of Choral Speech, picturing the Halloween spirit very cleverly.

The ever present problem of Home work was the subject of a Panel discussion led by two teachers, Principal S. H. Crowther and Miss M. Skjole, teacher of Grades V and VI, John Gronberg, High School student and Dr. Giffen, parent. Their points pro and con were mostly pro, as were the points in the lively discussion which followed, in which many present voiced their opinion, evidencing the keen interest that prevailed.

Provincial President, Mr. M. MacLeod expressed his pleasure at the success of the evening both as to programme and numbers attending.

Rev. D. Ford proposed a vote of thanks to all taking part in the panel discussion.

Following singing of The King, prize winners, their parents, teachers and the local executive were guests of the secretary Mrs. Hilsdon and Mr. Hilsdon at their home for an interesting social hour when all enjoyed an abundance of coffee and sandwiches.

Guests were present from Irricana, Rockyford, Beiseker, Cheyenne, Kathryn, Swallow and Strathmore.

President Hamilton announced that the November meeting will feature a panel discussion on Discipline, and asked all present to again attend.

Some of the highlights mentioned by various speakers were—

Home work assignments should be very definite. The conscientious student knows himself whether he needs to study and how long. Parents can be very helpful in encouraging their children in their work, and also in providing proper atmosphere and conditions.

LANGDON NOTES

By G.E.W.

In poor health for some time the word of Mr. Carl Wenstrom's death came as a shock to his many friends in Langdon on Sunday morning. Mr. Wenstrom was born in Andover, Ill., and came to the Langdon district in 1908, and has farmed here since. He was a member of the U. F. A. and was president of the Langdon Local a number of years. He has been a reeve and Councillor in the Shepard district about 12 years. Surviving are his widow Elsa; three daughters, Mrs. C. Eckstrand, Carstairs; Mrs. Geo. Leask, Nanton; Mrs. J. Stewart McNeill, Alberni, B. C.; one son Edward, Langdon, two sisters, Mrs. Lily Peterson, Lost Spring, Kansas and Mrs. Ruby Carlson, Hillsdale, Ill., two brothers, George, Langdon and Henry, Moline, Ill., and eight grand children. Services were held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:45 p.m. in Jacques Chapel. Interment followed in Union Cemetery. The elevators in Langdon were closed all day in respect for Mr. Wenstrom.

The farmers are very thankful for these few days of drying weather to finish up their harvest.

The directors of the Institute met on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 22nd in the hall. Much business was done. Final plans were made for the annual supper to be held on November 19th and a series of "500" card parties to run in November, the dates of these will be in next week's issue.

Remember all roads lead to the Hall where on November 10th a "500" card game will be put on by some of the ladies of the Institute. Come and have a good time.

Farmer's Column

by R. J. MILLIGAN

Soil conservation and reclamation should interest every farmer in the province of Alberta and in this district particularly. Why this district? This is your farming area and therefore it requires your personal interest to see that our soil is saved.

Vern Hansen was in the office not long ago and complained that he had to burn the straw from this year's rye crop before he could reseed the same field to fall rye in order to control Hoary Cress. He asked if a pick-up cutter box or hay chopper could be used to cut the heavy growth of straw and blow the cut material back on the land. We concluded that this would be a much better way of returning humus to the soil in the form of straw rather than burning and cultivating in the ashes or residue.

There are several of these machines in the district. Why not visit Mr. Jim McLean and learn how successful this machine has been this summer.

During the district meeting in Calgary of the Agricultural Service Board Supervisors and District Agriculturists, soil conservation was recommended for the Supervisors to stress in their farmer contracts. As the discussion proceeded, I mentioned the idea expressed by Vern Hansen and the feasibility of the plan was recognized by everyone.

In most areas, a trash cover in summerfallow is preferred to cover crops. First, because the trash can prevent wind erosion and help to hold moisture. Secondly, if the trash is uniformly spread no small dams are formed which, if they break, would allow water to run off and perhaps cause a rill, and if permitted to run long enough a gully would result. Therefore, it was concluded that trash covers perform two useful services towards soil conservation. In addition, to grow a cover crop takes seed, the expense of seeding the land, and to extend the argument further plant food and moisture are removed from the soil that could be used for next year's crop.

It was thought that if the trash got very heavy, it could be picked up, run through the cutter and blown back on the land, thus making it easier to work the trash into the soil.

A new wrinkle in merchandising is the painting of bedroom slipper toes with luminous paint so the owner can find them in the dark. What we need now, according to Frank Stollery, is luminous cats and dogs that show up so you don't step on them in the dark.

When the locomotive whistles for a grade crossing, says Bud Tench, it's a good time to believe all you hear.

"Myrtilla," he blurted one evening, "I have—uh—a question—that is, there's something I want to ask you ..."

"Oh Horace," she thrilled prettily. "This is so impulsive of you. But, of course, the answer is yes."

were Cluny week end visitors.

Scotty Keir, Mr. and Mrs. E. Borger and Mrs. A. Stahr motored to Calgary on Monday.

Miss Helen Beattie, teacher from Queenstown, spent the week end at the home of her parents. She was accompanied by Miss Hazel Gliddon, principal of the Queenstown school.

"That wasn't it," he explained, "I just wanted to know what date your mother has set for our wedding."

Sign in Cliff Will's Laundry—"We don't rip your expensive shirts in the machinery. We do carefully by hand."

The weather forecaster hadn't been right in three months, so his resignation caused no surprise, but his alibi for resigning did. "I can't stand this town any longer," he said in a public. "The climate does not agree with me."

Rowe Harvey—Do you know why the little ink drop was so blue? ... Dick West—No, why?

Rowe—Because his father was in the pen finishing a sentence.

Charlie Bennett showed up half an hour late for work, and Norman Jones was there to meet him.

"Well," queried Norman, "what's wrong now?"

"Just as I was leaving for work," said Charl. somewhat unhappily, "I fell down the stair at home."

"Well, heavens," cried Norman, petulantly, "you can't tell me that took you half an hour."

Time tells on a man, says Syd Coldwell. Especially a good time.

Ronnie Wilkinson: "Dad, freight is goods that is sent by water or land, isn't it?"

Fred: "That's right, son."

Ronnie: "Well, then why is it that the freight that goes by ship is called cargo, and when it goes by car it is called a shipment?"

IN OUR BACKSHOP

It's about a month since we switched nameplates on The Standard, and changed the format slightly, and it's becoming more apparent each week that we should have commented on it.

We've heard many comments from readers who like the "new" nameplate, and who think the appearance of the paper has been improved by it. So far we've heard from no one who doesn't like it.

But we feel we ought to tell our readers that the "new" heading is almost old and grey in the service.

It was used for a long period of years at the head of "The Standard" before it became a seven column paper. Just how long it was used we're not sure—we couldn't find our way that far back in the files, but it was used up until October 19, 1929. At that time, the paper changed from six columns to seven, and had to have a changed head.

We thought that most of our readers would be familiar with the "old" heading, but it seems that there have been large number of changes in eighteen years, and many present readers were not readers eighteen years ago.

We're glad it's liked, but it just goes to show once more that there's nothing new under the sun.
